

Customer Journey Map

ComicCraft – AI Comic Story Creator using Gemini Models

Map out the customer's experience stage-by-stage, capturing their actions, touchpoints, thoughts, feelings, process ownership and improvement opportunities at each stage.

Journey Element	Stage 1 Enter Requirements	Stage 2 Generate Comic	Stage 3 Review & Export
Actions What does the customer do?	• Open ComicCraft • Enter story prompt • Enter character, setting, tone and art style • Click Generate	• Wait for AI processing • AI creates story, dialogue and panels	• View generated comic • Review panels and content • Download PDF
Touchpoint What part of the service do they interact with?	• Web interface • Input form • Story configuration fields • Generate button	• FastAPI backend • Gemini AI / image generation	• Comic preview page • Generated panel images • PDF download
Customer Thought What is the customer thinking?	• "I want to create my own comic." • "Can I provide my own story idea?" • "Which style should I choose?"	• "Will the AI understand my idea?" • "How will my comic look?" • "How long will generation take?"	• "Does the generated comic match my idea?" • "Can I review the panels?" • "Can I download my comic?"
Customer Feeling	• Curious • Interested • Creative	• Excited • Expectant • Curious	• Satisfied • Excited • Accomplished
Process Ownership Who is in the lead on this?	ComicCraft Web Interface / Frontend	FastAPI + Gemini AI + Image Generation	Comic Preview + PDF Export
Opportunities How can we improve this stage?	• Simple input form • Clear field descriptions • Easy art-style selection	• Show generation status • Handle generation errors clearly • Optimize AI processing	• Provide clear preview • Easy PDF download • Convenient review of generated panels